As a nexus of new possibilities in the Destiny Universe, Destiny: Rising delves into an unseen era where burgeoning hope blooms once again after a terrifying collapse of civilization and the dangers of the resulting Dark Age. With the help of legendary Iron Lords, humanity has broken free the shackles of tyranny and began to rally together against the alien forces intent on its extinction. Amidst the chaos of this early age for The City, a new generation of Lightbearers, resurrected by mysterious entities known as Ghosts, set out to restore humanity's prominence and secure its future.

For a selection of newer mobile devices, Destiny: Rising will not only support 60 frames per second, but even 90 frames per second on select devices, which will provide an amazing experience with faster action.

Destiny: Rising has also announced a special cross-promotion event with Destiny 2. After completing the "Bear the Light" event in Destiny: Rising, players will be able to redeem an exclusive emblem for use in Destiny 2 through the Bungie.net website.

Destiny: Rising will feature the following:
