NetEase.com Reports First Quarter 2008

Unaudited Financial Results

(Beijing – May 22, 2008) – NetEase.com, Inc. (NASDAQ: NTESS), one of China’s leading Internet and online game services providers, today announced its unaudited financial results for the quarter ended March 31, 2008.

William Ding, Chief Executive Officer and Director of NetEase stated, “The key to our success in 2008 and beyond will be our continued ability to evolve as we anticipate the ever-changing dynamics of the Chinese Internet market. We believe that diversification in our product offerings will allow us to achieve our goal. During the first quarter of 2008, we continued to intensify our focus on the development of item- and fee-based games and remain on schedule to start closed beta testing of Tianxia II, which will be our first 3D item-based game.”

Mr. Ding continued, “We are pleased with our progress on the current development of Tianxia II and are confident that we are on track to launch the open beta testing of this game early next month. Our free-email service has continued to dominate the Chinese market, as we remain relentless in our efforts to continually provide users with the best experience and technology available. We believe that we have the talent, technology and user base to continue capitalizing on the various opportunities surrounding the strong growth trends of the internet market in China.”

First Quarter 2008 Financial Results

Total revenues for the first quarter of 2008 were RMB651.9 million (US$93.0 million), compared to RMB622.1 million (US$88.7 million) and RMB554.6 million (US$79.1 million) for the fourth and first quarters of 2007, respectively.

Revenues from online games were RMB555.9 million (US$79.3 million) for the first quarter of 2008, compared to RMB507.0 million (US$72.3 million) and RMB481.9 million (US$68.7 million) for the fourth and first quarters of 2007, respectively.

Revenues from advertising services were RMB77.1 million (US$11.0 million) for the first quarter of 2008, compared to RMB98.1 million (US$14.0 million) and RMB56.2 million (US$8.0 million) for the fourth and first quarters of 2007, respectively.

Revenues from wireless value-added services and others (“WVAS and others”) were RMB18.9 million (US$2.7 million) for the first quarter of 2008, compared to RMB17.0 million (US$2.4 million) and RMB16.6 million (US$2.4 million) for the fourth and first quarters of 2007, respectively.

Gross profit for the first quarter of 2008 was RMB532.0 million (US$75.9 million), compared to RMB488.0 million (US$69.6 million) and RMB430.1 million (US$61.3 million) for the fourth and first quarters of 2007, respectively. The quarter-over-quarter increase in gross profit was primarily driven by the continued growth in revenues from Fantasy Westward Journey and the granting of preferential business tax treatment to one of the Company’s variable interest entities (“VIEs”) related to revenue generated by online games and wireless services by the relevant local tax authority in the first quarter of 2008. Unless there is a change in the applicable tax rules, the Company expects to continue enjoying such preferential business tax treatment in the foreseeable future. The year-over-year increase in gross profit was mainly due to higher revenues from the online game and advertising businesses in the first quarter of 2008.

Gross margin for the online game business for the first quarter of 2008 was 90.2%, compared to 90.7% and 89.6% for the fourth and first quarters of 2007, respectively. The quarter-over-quarter decrease was primarily due to increases in salary and staff-related costs in the first quarter of 2008 as a result of increased headcount and increases in miscellaneous cost of revenues, partially offset by increased revenue. The year-over-year increase was primarily attributable to higher revenue, partially offset by increased salary and staff-related costs due to increased headcount for the development and enhancement of games during the first quarter of 2008.

Gross margin for the advertising business for the first quarter of 2008 was 45.8%, compared to 52.0% and 35.7% for the fourth and first quarters of 2007, respectively. The quarter-over-quarter decrease in gross margin was primarily due to the typical soft demand for the Company’s advertising services during the first quarter each year. The year-over-year increase in gross margin was primarily driven by an increase in brand advertising revenue resulting from the Company’s successful creation of new premium ad spaces for advertisers, partially offset by increased staff salary cost as a result of an increase in headcount during the first quarter of 2008.

Gross loss margin for the WVAS and others business for the first quarter of 2008 was 6.2%, compared to 19.5% and 36.1% for the fourth and the first quarters of 2007, respectively. The quarter-over-quarter and the year-over-year improvement in gross margin were mainly due to an increase in revenue during the first quarter of 2008 while the related cost of revenue remained relatively stable. The increase in WVAS and others revenue was primarily driven by the increases in revenues from various fee-based premium services and the savings in business tax as explained above.

Total operating expenses for the first quarter of 2008 were RMB127.6 million (US$18.2 million), compared to RMB152.8 million (US$21.8 million) and RMB117.7 million (US$16.8 million) for the fourth and first quarters of 2007, respectively. The quarter-over-quarter decrease in selling and marketing expenses was primarily due to decreased promotion costs for the online game and advertising businesses during the first quarter of 2008. The quarter-over-quarter decrease in general and administrative expenses was due to the receipt of a local government rent subsidy of RMB1.0 million (US$0.1 million) by one of the Company's subsidiaries during the first quarter of 2008. The quarter-over-quarter decrease in research and development expenses was mainly due to lower stock-based compensation cost and other staff-related costs during the first quarter of 2008. The year-over-year decrease in selling and marketing expenses was primarily due to the reduced promotion costs for the online game business during the first quarter of 2008. The year-over-year increase in general and administrative expenses was primarily due to the reversal of provision for bad debts made in the first quarter of 2007, which resulted in a net increase in bad debt expense of RMB7.0 million (US$1.0 million) in the first quarter of 2008. The year-over-year increase in research and development expenses was mainly attributable to increased staff salary and staff-related costs totaling RMB5.6 million (US$0.8 million), which resulted from an increase in headcount, and increased depreciation charges of RMB0.8 million (US$0.1 million) related to newly acquired fixed assets for the Company's search engine and free email services.

Net profit for the first quarter of 2008 totaled RMB269.4 million (US$38.4 million), compared to RMB389.8 million (US$55.6 million) and RMB301.5 million (US$43.0 million) for the fourth and first quarters of 2007, respectively. The quarter-over-quarter and the year-over-year decrease in net profit were primarily due to the increase in tax charges reported for the first quarter of 2008 as explained in the paragraph below. NetEase reported basic and diluted earnings per American depositary share ("ADS") of US$0.32 and US$0.30 for the first quarter of 2008, respectively. The Company reported basic and diluted earnings per ADS of US$0.46 and US$0.43 and US$0.34 and US$0.32 for the fourth and first quarters of 2007, respectively.

Effective as of January 1, 2008, the Chinese government adopted a new income tax law which unified the enterprise income tax payable by domestic and foreign-invested enterprises at 25%. Prior to the adoption of the new law, a number of the Company's subsidiaries and VIEs were entitled to various preferential tax treatments. The Chinese tax authorities are currently in the process of establishing a framework to receive and process applications from domestic and foreign-invested enterprises for the qualification of high and new technology enterprise ("HNTE") and the granting of the HNTE preferential tax status under the new tax laws. Therefore, the Company is required under applicable accounting standards to report its tax provision at the new statutory income tax rate of 25% except for certain of its subsidiaries which are subject to a tax holiday. The tax charge for the first quarter of 2008 was RMB114.8 million (US$16.4 million), compared to the tax benefit of RMB52.9 million (US$7.5 million) and the tax charge of RMB33.6 million (US$4.8 million) for the fourth and first quarters of 2007, respectively. The Company's tax charge for the first quarter of 2008 was higher than the previous quarter primarily due to the adoption of the new tax law in China as explained above. The Company expected that in future quarters when the Company's subsidiaries and VIEs in China are granted the HNTE preferential tax status, the excessive tax charge will be reversed. The tax benefit reported for the fourth quarter of 2007 was primarily attributable to the reporting of deferred tax assets at the new statutory income tax rate. It is expected that the Company will report a higher tax charge in future quarters as and when the HNTE preferential tax treatments are granted by the Chinese tax authorities, as a result of a reduction to the deferred tax assets to reflect the lower preferred tax rates. For the first quarter of 2007, the Company's net tax expense was reduced as a result of the preferential tax treatments enjoyed prior to the adoption of the new tax laws.

Cash flow generated from operating activities was approximately RMB495.0 million (US$70.6 million) for the first quarter of 2008, compared to RMB426.6 million (US$60.8 million) and RMB283.0 million (US$40.4 million) for the preceding quarter and the fourth quarter of 2007, respectively.

On July 2, 2007, the Company's Board authorized a share repurchase program of up to US$120 million of the Company's outstanding ADSs.
